Art Düsseldorf announces list of exhibitors for its second edition

Art Düsseldorf is pleased to announce the list of exhibitors participating in its second edition, which will be held from November 16 – 18, 2018 (preview and opening day: November 15, 2018) at the Areal Böhler, an authentic industrial space in prime location next to river Rhine in Düsseldorf. Modern and contemporary art will be shown by 91 established and young galleries from 19 different countries. Of the participating galleries, the majority (53%) comes from the region (Germany and Benelux), among them 27 from North Rhine-Westphalia. The remaining 47% consist of international galleries with most of them of European origin (34 galleries).

This year the fair will increase their fair grounds by 10%, and is proud to welcome 40 new exhibitors who represent the very best in their field of modern and contemporary art from 1945 to 2018, carefully chosen by Art Düsseldorf. Among the new entrants are the Berlin galleries EIGEN+ART and Société, Kadel Willborn from Düsseldorf, Akinci from Amsterdam, Ceysson & Bénétière from Paris, Bernier/Eliades from Athens, Bernheimer Fine Art from Lucerne, and TKG* from Taipei.

Art Düsseldorf provides special support for young galleries founded after September 2008, which are presented in the Post Lehman section, with reduced booth prices. A jury of curators from the Rhineland area will select the best booth presentation, which will receive an additional 50% discount on their booth fee. New additions to the Post Lehman section are BWA Warszawa from Warsaw, Luce Gallery from Turin, Öktem Aykut from Istanbul, Talion Gallery from Tokyo, Uma Lulik from Lisbon, as well as unttd contemporary and Galerie Lisa Kandlhofer from Vienna. Returning galleries to the fair, featured in the section include Polansky Gallery (Prague), alexander levy (Berlin), Lucas Hirsch (Düsseldorf) and PSM Gallery (Berlin).
