ART DÜSSELDORF ANNOUNCES GALLERY LIST 2024

SAVE THE DATE

Art Düsseldorf 2024
Preview: April 11, 2024
Public Days: April 12 - 14, 2024
Areal Böhler, Düsseldorf

Expanding: Art Düsseldorf presents itself as a dynamic hub for the art scene in its sixth edition. The fair offers carefully curated insights into the significant artistic developments of our time and will continue to act as a vibrant meeting place for the art world in 2024.

Strong appearance with 105 galleries - 43 new participants

More than 100 galleries: The current edition of Art Düsseldorf showcases 105 galleries, marking a substantial growth compared to the previous year. Among them, 34 galleries join for the first time, including Meyer Riegger (Berlin), Kewenig (Berlin, Palma de Mallorca), Dirimart (Istanbul), and Plus-One Gallery (Antwerp). 71 galleries are returning for another participation, including well-known names such as Galerie Thomas Schulte (Berlin), Galerie Michael Haas (Berlin), and Konrad Fischer (Düsseldorf, Berlin).

This year, there are 30 galleries from Düsseldorf and Cologne. Galleries based in Berlin are just as strongly represented: 24 galleries reflect the rich art scene of the capital, including KOW, Dittrich & Schlechtriem, and Galerie Friese. The list is further enhanced by 40 galleries with international locations representing countries such as Austria, Turkey, Denmark, Ireland, Italy, Spain, the USA, India, Sweden, Belgium, Great Britain, Portugal, and France. Notable participants include Emami Art (Kolkata), Carolina Nitsch (New York), Gallery Krinzinger (Vienna), Tatjana Pieters (Ghent), and Steve Turner (Los Angeles).

The outstanding line-up confirms the excellent reputation of Art Düsseldorf as a lively stage for young as well as established positions on the cutting edge. Works by artists such as Marina Abramović, Julius von Bismarck, Ulla von Brandenburg, Julian Charrière, Willem de Kooning, Karin Kneffel, Konrad Klappheck, Joep van Liefland, Heinz Mack, Bettina Pousttchi, Troika, or Jürgen Staeck have been announced.

This list of exhibitors solidifies Art Düsseldorf's position as a diverse and vibrant marketplace, attracting collectors, art enthusiasts, and industry professionals.

Diverse Sections

The fair emphasizes its commitment to a discursive approach, innovation, and the inclusion of current topics through its curatorial concept and the purposeful layout of its sections and focal themes.

With the thematic focus and program, the fair continues to assert itself as a place of exchange, debate, and the experience of art.

As last year, the fair sections are once again called Main, Next, Solo Projects, and Joint. The Next section caters to galleries with less than ten years of activity, focusing on younger artists. The Joint section allows galleries to present their work cooperatively. The Solo Projects present outstanding artists addressing the central focal themes of the year 2024:

- Photography & Identity
- Retromania
- Future Bodies

These focal themes are also reflected in the fair's talk program. For the first time this year, a team of curators, Laura Helena Wurth (Deutschlandfunk Kultur) and Alexander Wilmschen (Kestner Gesellschaft), will select and present the highly popular Sculpture Spots, showcasing sculptures with museum standards and dimensions.

Sustainability as a commitment: the „Change“ project in cooperation with the E.on Foundation

Both curators are also responsible for the „Change“ project, which presents contemporary positions that deal with sustainability and transformation processes. Walter Gehlen, Director of Art Düsseldorf, emphasizes the continuous innovative nature of the fair and highlights the cooperation with the foundation: „Exploring the topic of sustainability will remain a priority of Art Düsseldorf. In close cooperation with the E.on Foundation, we will explore new perspectives and contemporary approaches to this topic in the arts this year.“ As part of the Change Project, artistic positions by Julia Scher, Jonas Lund, Gerrit Frohne-Brinkmann, Mona Schulzek, among others, will be on display.

Düsseldorf is a significant destination for art history

Art Düsseldorf is not the only reason to come to the Rhineland this spring. It is embedded in the rich offerings of the state capital as a historically significant place and is also supported by a close network of galleries, museums, and collections.

From mid-March, the Kunstsammlung NRW is presenting the exhibition „Hilma af Klint and Wassily Kandinsky. Dreams of the Future“, while the Kunstpalast features a new presentation of its collection, including a replica of the legendary cream cheese bar. The fair is at the heart of the cultural calendar in April as a lively stage for contemporary art.

„We look forward to four days full of art, exchange, and inspiring encounters. The Art Düsseldorf program and the participating galleries are united by the fact that we draw on the cultural wealth of the Rhineland and, at the same time, encourage contemporary global art. We achieve this through careful curation, well-thought-out program design, and a distinct understanding of the dynamic relationships between art history and innovation, between galleries, artists, the fair, and its location,“ Walter Gehlen summarizes.
