ART DÜSSELDORF ANNOUNCES GALLERY LIST 2023

With its fifth edition, Art Düsseldorf presents itself as a platform for the most insightful and essential artistic developments of our time, and as a vibrant meeting place for the art world.

With the announcement of the 95 participating galleries, Art Düsseldorf 2023 confirms its importance for the contemporary art market. The fair emphasizes this with a significant curatorial program that will characterize the 2023 edition:

This year, galleries were able to apply not only for the MAIN SECTION but also for the new NEXT and SOLO PROJECTS sections.

NEXT is aimed at galleries that have existed for less than ten years and show current works by up-and-coming artists. The SOLO PROJECTS section features artists with outstanding solo presentations on one of the following three focus themes:

- Sustainability
- Diversity
- Rhineland Connections

With the new sections, the fair presents a sharpened profile that reflects the ever-changing art world.

„The Art Düsseldorf team attaches great importance to a diverse and attractive program. We communicate this consistently in our contact with the galleries and, in return, receive very open-minded feedback. We are pleased that we have succeeded in putting together such a diverse and multifaceted program,“ sums up Walter Gehlen, Director of Art Düsseldorf.

Among the exhibitors, many galleries are being welcomed back for the second time. Overall, the number of exhibitors has grown and 11 new places have opened up, so that 95 exhibitors will participate this year. With 35 newcomers exhibiting for the first time at Art Düsseldorf, there will be even more diversity within the fair schedule. Additionally, 29 galleries from the region — including 17 from Düsseldorf — confirm the strong position of the Rhineland. Berlin forms a strong counterweight with 30 galleries, southern Germany and Austria are represented by 15 galleries, and 34 galleries with international locations attest to the fair's appeal far beyond Germany. For this edition, galleries from London, Madrid, Lisbon, Copenhagen, New York, Istanbul, Kolkata, and Buenos Aires, among others, are represented.

The high-quality selection confirms Art Düsseldorf's reputation as a dynamic platform for emerging and established galleries, and an essential meeting point for collectors, explorers, and art professionals.

„The 2023 edition has a special significance for us: The great demand on the part of national and international galleries, their top-class artistic portfolio, our sophisticated digital offerings, the appealing art city of Düsseldorf (surrounded by the lively scenes of the Rhineland), and the inviting positive atmosphere in our light-flooded halls in the Böhler area are raising great expectations. We firmly believe that both encounters and discoveries, plus business and lively conversations will once again take place here at the highest level. We look forward to welcoming our many guests“, says Walter Gehlen, who eagerly looks ahead to the 2023 edition.
